HOUSE WILL VOTE ON AMENDMENTS

Declines to Leave Final Draft of Enabling Act To Committee.

SPECIAL FOR TODAY.

Delegates Will Agree to Amendments Acceptable and Reject Those Averse to The Majority.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 7.—The House of Delegates yesterday declined to leave to a conference committee o the two houses the final drafting of the terms and conditions of which the question of state-wide prohibition shall be submitted to the people. Instead it voted to take up and consider the State amendments seriatim, with a view of agreeing to such as may meet the views of the majority, and of rejecting others.

The decision was reached after nearly two hours of vigorous debate, after the chair had ruled that a report of a conference committee was not divisible, but must be adopted or rejected as a whole. After some sparring for position, the House ordered the senate amendments printed, and made their consideration a special and continuing order for 12 o'clock today.

As the situation stands, both house have voted by a decisive majorities to refer to the people the question of whether the State shall adopt state-wide prohibition or continue under the present policy of local option. Since the bill was passed by the house, a large number of amendments have been placed upon it, some which may meet little opposition, and others which will meet with vigorous objection.

The action yesterday was taken to indicate the desire of the House to shape the bill on the floor with the full knowledge of the members as to what it contains, and the provisions under which the referendum is to be had, rather than, as one member expressed it, to swallow whole a report drawn by a conference committee of the two branches by the process of swapping amendments.

PRISON CELL FOR DEAD BEATS.

Senator Curran's Plan For Putting Them Out of Business.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 7.—Senator Curran, of Baltimore, has evolved a scheme for putting out of business the ordinary "beat" who finds it profitable to cheat his grocer, butcher, doctor, and so forth putting him behind the bars.

As he expressed it, every one knows that Baltimore and other places in the State are full of people who insist upon having the best in the land and systematically defraud those who furnish it to them. It is the habit of such people to run up bills and then move to some other place or section of the city, where the performance is repeated.

Senator Curran says that the result is that honest people have to bear this burden imposed by the dishonest because the tradesmen must get back the money he loses on bad debts out of those who pay for what they buy. His measure, therefore, in a way, is designed to reduce the high cost of living.

He recognizes the difficulty of getting around the constitutional provision which prohibits imprisonment for debt, but he thinks he may be able to get over the barrier, by framing his bill along the lines of the law relating to false pretenses. This he has done. His bill provides that:

"Any person who shall purchase any goods, wares or merchandise, and any person who shall procure another to render any services for him under a promise, expressed or implied, to pay for the same, and who shall refuse to pay for the same shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined not more than $100 or imprisonment not less than six months or both."

NEWS OF THE DAY

Using a hatchet, William Lehman, a milk wagon driver of Giessen, Germany, yesterday hacked his wife and four children to pieces, and then threw himself in front of a railroad train. He was killed instantly. It is believed the man went insane before committing the wholesale murders.

Love for two 16-year-old girls, neither of whom knew of the other's existence, prompted John McFadden to kill Anna Lutz and himself as they sat in an automobile near Ligonier, Pa., early yesterday.

Hans Schmidt, the discredited priest, who murdered Ann Amuller and cast her dismembered body into the Hudson river at New York, was found guilty of murder in the first degree Thursday evening. This verdict will send the murderer to the electric chair. When the jury field into Justice Davis's court Schmidt showed the same unconcern that characterized him through both trials. Just a week from the day of the murder, Schmidt was confronted, accused of the murder and immediately confessed. He declared his act was due to an order he had received from St. Elizabeth, Hungary, directing him to offer a blood sacrifice. Schmidt told Inspector Faurst that, before murdering the girl, he had married her, performing the ceremony himself.

Oreste Lamata, a vaudeville singer who had lost his position because his voice failed through excessive cigarete smoking, shot himself Wednesday in Stamford, Conn., following an interview with his fiance, Marie Garguilo. A photograph of the girl was found over his heart.

A proclamation naming Benjamin Boza ad interim president of Peru, was issued yesterday by the government which overthrew the power of President Guillermo Billinghurst Wednesday, by a military coup d'etat. It is expected that Dr. Augusto Durand, chief leader in the uprising against President Billinghurst, will succeed Senor Boza. Troops are being kept in the streets to prevent a counter revolution by followers of Dr. Billinghurst, who will be exiled on the charge of conspiracy against the constitution. Many more arrests have been made.

Five men were killed and several injured yesterday in a boiler explosio nthat partially wrecked the mill of Thomas Mayer, near Urbana Ky.

For a sum said to be greatly in excess of $500,000, P. A. B. Widener, of Philadelphia, has bought from Duveen Bros., art dealers., of New York, a "Madonna and Child," by Raphael, formerly in the collection of Earl Cowper. It is the most important single art transaction ever made in this country, the previous record being Mr. Widener's purchase of "The Mill," by Rembrandt, for which he paid $500,000.

A story reached the offices of the Mexico Northwestern yesterday evening from Pearson that it is believed that all passengers on the train held up by bandits at Cumbre were locked in the cars before the train was turned loose down the frightful grade into a burning tunnel. It is said that all were burned. There were 100 passengers on the train, including five Americans, officials of the Mexico Northwestern Railway, and other American companies. Earlier it was believed that the Americans had been taken prisoners by the bandit group and that they had been taken into the hills by the bandits.

Miss Grace McQuade, twenty-three, who shot her sweetheart, J. G. Adler, and then herself in Cleveland, Ohio, Thursday because Alder told her he was going to marry another girl, died early yesterday. Her last words before she lapsed into unconsciousness were: "I'm glad I did it. I had nothing to live for. I pleaded with him to marry me in spite of his parents' objections. Then he told me he was in love with another girl. I reached in my dress and fired at him and then at myself." Adler will live, physicians say.

Found guilty in the second degree of killing her husband in bed, Mrs. Susan Ross was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary at Fulton, Mo.

ANTICIPATING FINAL EXPLOSION

Great Excitement in Mexico City—Awaits Attacks on The Suburbs.

DIAZ BEHIND REVOLT?

Federals Surround National Palace—Foreign Colony Ready For Crisis—Guns on Housetops.

Mexico City, Feb. 7.—With 2,000 soldiers under arms surrounding the national palace, General Huerta and his chief advisers in conclave, inside, every foreign colony in wild excitement, and reports that fighting had already been started in the suburbs of Mexico City today believed that the final explosion which may end Huerta's rule is at hand.

Behind the revolt already in progress, it is reported, stand Felix Diaz, the man who, a year ago, next Monday, caused the downfall of Presiden Madero, a desperate battle in this city, and Madero's subsequent assassination.

Around the arsenal where Diaz started his fight against Madero, many families have been ordered to move out and on the roofs of their houses are mounted machine guns besides which Huerta's troops slept on their arms all through last night.

Excited couriers coming into the city from Guadaloupe, a suburb four miles to the north, brought word to Huerta that the garrison there had revolted, paving the way for the entrance into the city of several thousand rebels.

Federal troops immediately were rushed to Guadaloupe in armored automobiles, and batteries were mounted on the hills around the suburbs, commanding every approach to the capital in that direction.

The anxiety of Huerta was increased by persistent rumors that the police of the capital are armed with carbines and ready to join the rebels whenever they gain an entrance into Mexico City.

GOLD TO BISHOP WILSON.

Friends Honor Venerable Methodist on His Birthday.

Baltimore, Feb. 7.—Bishop Alpheus W. Wilson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, celebrated Thursday his eightieth birthday, his sixty-first anniversary as a preacher and his thirty-first as a bishop. The actual anniversary as bishop and preacher occurred several months ago.

In the evening a reception was held in his honor at Trinity Church, Madison avenue and Preston streets, and about 800 persons came to greet him.

Bishop Denny presented the Bishop a purse in which was a gold piece "for every golden year and representing the golden affection in which he is held among his people." Another purse of gold was later given him.

Bishop Wilson and his children and grandchildren and other close relatives sat down to the birthday dinner at his home, 1601 Park Place, and at the dinner Bishop Denny and Bishop Kilgo were the guests of honor.

He received many beautiful flowers and other handsome gifts and throughout the day was apparently in usual good spirits. And the burden of the reception seemed to fatigue him but little.

BOY DENIED BAIL.

Held on Charge of Murdering His Father.

Stuart, Va., Feb. 7.—The application for bail made by Charles Lawson, who is held here to answer to the charge of murdering his father, Will Lawson, on or about December 23, was denied by Bail Commissioner Harvey. The elder Lawson was found buried in a field near his home three weeks ago, after three weeks' search by neighbors.

The accused is a fairly bright looking boy of about twenty years. He was neatly attired and assisted his attorneys in framing questions to be asked the witnesses.

No less interesting was Mrs. Lawson, mother of the prisoner and widow of the murdered man. She is standing by her son. Several times during the trial, she showed her fighting spirit. On her lap sat young Woodrow Wilson Lawson, her eleven-months-old, fatherless baby.

VIRGINIA'S FIGHT FOR EQUAL RATES

Representatives Heard by Interstate Commerce Commission.

BIG INJURY TO STATE.

Statement Made Before Commission. Will Take Matter Under Advisement and Rule Later.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The whole of the afternoon session of the Interstate Commerce Commission was devoted yesterday to hearing arguments of attorneys for the States of Virginia and North Carolina, and the railroads concerned, on the application of the Southern Railway and other carriers for authority to establish lower rates from St. Louis, the Ohio River crossings and Memphis and Nashville, Tenn. to North Carolina, than the rates concurrently applicable on like traffic from, to and between intermediate points.

The hearing began directly after luncheon, with all the commissioners on the bench. It was announced that one hour would be allowed to those in favor of the application, and the same to those opposing it.

Attorney-General Bickett, of North Carolina, opened in favor of granting the application.

He was followed by Corporation Commissioner Travsi, of North Carolina, who discussed the details of the settlement of the long-standing controversy regarding rates between North Carolina and the railroads, especially with reference to the departure from the fourth section of the commerce act in the Western part of North Carolina.

Mr. James, attorney representing the "larger Virginia Cities", followed Travis in opposition to the granting of the application, which, he declared, would work tremendous hardship upon Virginia shippers, and that it would disturb the whole rate situation between points on the Atlantic seaboard and discriminate against Virginia cities. He declared that the railroads had been forced to make the settlement with the North Carolina officials, and that it could not be justified on the sound principle of transportation, but was simply agreed to by the carriers because they wished to keep "on the good side of" North Carolina people.

Attorney-General John Garland Pollard, of Virginia, then presented a brief in the case, and addressed the commission at some length.

SALE OF HOTEL SITE.

Richmond Men Pay $847,000 for Arlington Property.

Washington, Feb .7.—With a protecting bid of $847,000 made by representatives of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, holders of the deed of trust under which the property was sold, the Arlington Hotel Company's site at Vermont Avenue H and I streets northwest, was yesterday "knocked down" at public auction to Oliver J. Sands, president of the American National Bank of Richmond, for $817,000. Mr. Sands is said to have taken the property in his name merely as the agent of other interests.

Last week a syndicate of Richmond bankers and financiers bid in the property at $50,000, but Aldis B. Brown and Frederick E. Chapin, the trustees named in the Equitable's deed of trust, rejected the offer, and readvertised the property, because the Richmond men failed to comply with the terms of sale by making a prompt deposit of $50,000. Yesterday Mr. Sands consummated the deal immediately after the acceptance of his bid, by tendering through his representative, Robert H. McNeil, a certified check for $50,000, drawn upon a local trust company.

Knocking Abraham Levy senseless on a crowded Brooklyn street, three men robbed him of a satchel containing $2,000 and escaped.

APPREHENSIVE OF CHINA.

Senator McCumber Says Celestial Empire May Take Vengeance for Past Treatment.

Washington, Feb. 7.— Talk about the "yellow peril," present and to come, and the probabilities of this country being engaged in war, was plentiful at the banquet given in honor of Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, by the Department of the Potomac G. A. R., at Rauscher's Thursday night. The sentiment of the speakers, which included senators and representatives, was for peace, but their words were invariably accompanied with observations that if any other nation should make the mistake of starting something with this country it would know that there had been a war.

The most pointed references to the yellow peril were from Senator McCumber, responding to the toast, "Gunpowder," He spoke of the amazing development of Japan in the last decade, and pointed to her military achievement in destroying the navy and routing the army of Russia.

"Not so many years ago," he said, "we, as a country, took small notice of the little people of Nippon. Now we are spending hundreds of thousands annually in building battleships to defend our coast's against them. What Japan is today the great republic of China may be tomorrow. With military training and an ample supply of gunpowder, those hordes of people may yet rise up and call to account the Western peoples, and exact vengeance for every insult or fancied slight."

SIGNS "RED LIGHT" BILL.

Kenyon Law Now in Force Throughout District of Columbia.

Washington, Feb. 7.—President Wilson at 12:30 o'clock today signed the Kenyon "red light" bill, which at once became a law. There was no ceremony about the signing, the President using the regular fountain pen he is accustomed to use in all official matters. No explanation was made at the White House as to what recommendation was made upon the bill by the Attorney-Genarl.

The President withheld his signature to the bill until almost the last minute to permit the organizations and people doing rescue work to carry out plans they had in mind.

SOLDIERS' HOME TO BE PROBED

Delegate Toney Introduces Resolution For Early Investigation.

SOME UGLY REPORTS.

Committe Directed to Obtain Facts Concerning Institution and Report At This Session.

Richmond, Feb. 7.—Investigation of Lee Camp Soldiers' Home by a joint committee of the General Assembly was proposed in a joint resolution offered in the House of Delegates yesterday by Delegate D. L. Toney, of Richmond. After some debate it was passed by until today, when it will come up in the House as unfinished business.

Immediately after the House convened, Mr. Toney offered a resolution, providing for appointment of a special committee of five from the House and three from the Senate to investigate conditions at Lee Camp Soldiers' Home, inquire into the food furnished, the disbursements and the conditions generally, and report back during this session.

Mr. Toney said he knew little of the home, but that its report showed that it had expended $13,083 last year—nearly one-fourth of its total annual income on "repairs." From casual observation about the institution, he was not satisfied that State money had been wisely expended. In fact, the group of ancient frame buildings did not appear to him to have received any extensive repairs such as were indicated by the expenditures. He heard that there were complaints to the quality of the food furnished and while he knew little of the facts, he felt that the people of the State who pay for the institution should be assured that the old soldiers are receiving a nourishing and plentiful supply of well prepared, if plain, food.

Several members spoke in defense of the institution and urged that the resolution be referred to a committee which might make some preliminary inquiry, and determine whether there was any basis for a formal investigation. The House refused to refer the resolution by a vote of 39 to 46.

Mr. Clement, of Pittsylvania, moved to pass by until today, which, after discussion, was adopted by a vote of 47 to 37, several members indicating a desire to make personal inquiries about the institution and its work before voting for or against any resolution for investigation.

VIRGINIA GIRL STRANDED.

Search on Whte Slave Charge Made for Man Who Deserted Mattie Ray, Aged Eighteen.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 7.—Mattie Ray, an 18-year-old daughter of Thomas Ray, a prosperous business man of Milboro, Va., near Hot Springs, has been found by Federal agents of the Department of Justice stranded in one of the larger hotels where she had been deserted by a salesman who brought her here on a promise of marriage. She is being held pending the arrival of her parents, and meanwhile a country-wide search has been instituted for the man on a white slave charge.

The girl is very pretty, and in addition to being clothed stylishly, bears all the marks of refinement and careful bringing up. She declared that the salesman, whose name is John Shrotes, was introduced to her about six months ago. He was an employe of a Baltimore candy firm.

When she found herself alone and without mony here, Miss Ray said she was afraid to notify her parents and hesitated to return home. She sent word to George T. Ray, a brother in Washington, asking him to aid her.

Convicted of white-slaving, Arthur R. Carey, aged 38, of Chicago, was sentenced at Milwaukee to three years in Leavenworth Federal prison.

Former Governor A. J. Montague will be the speaker at the men's meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in the assembly hall of the Westminster Building. A large congregation is expected to hear this gifted son of the Old Dominion.

Ground Glass in Pleasantville Pie.

Pleasantville, N. J., Feb. 7.—Finely ground glass found in a pie purchased by a Pleasantville family has caused a sensation, and the arrest of a number of persons is said to be pending. The discovery of the glass was made by a child, who was frightened by the sight of blood on her lips as she ate the pie.

Alexandria Sunday School Association Secures Prominent Workers to Speak on the Occasion

The Alexandria Sunday School Association is fortunate in being able to secure for its conference, which is to be held in the First Baptist Church, on Monday, February 9th, such men as Dr. McElfresh, of Chicago, Illinois, the superintendent of the Teacher Training Department of the International Sunday School Association; Rev. A. L. Phillips, D. D., of Richmond, Va., Superintendent of Sunday Schools, Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.; Mr. T. C. Diggs, of Richmond, Va., general secretary of the Virginia Sunday School Association; Mr. M. E. Church, of Falls Church, Va., president of the Virginia Sunday School Association, and possibly one or two others equally as prominent men in Sunday School Work, who will make the addresses, lead the discussion, answer the questions from the question box, and in fact they will have entire charge of the conference.

The officers of the Alexandria Association feel justified in saying that all who attend will be helped spiritually besides getting material help in their work.

A BARGAIN SALE OF TICKETS.

Friday, February 13th, will be a lucky day for all who avail themselves of the opportunity to hear the Famous Friskee Ministrels. Their usual prices are from 75 cents up, but because this is their first appearance in Alexandria, they are permitting the tickets to be sold at the low price of 49 cents. The public may not know that the majority of these performers are natives of Alexandria and their interest in Alexandria institutions and of the Alexandria Kindergarten in particular is natural. The fact that Mr. Sherman Fowle is presenting this famous company above augurs a fine performance and every one will feel at the end that they really secured a bargain with tickets at only 49 cents. The Westminster Building will be crowded, so it will be wise to have your seats reserved at Warfield's. There will be no extra charge for this reservation.

COLD WAVE HEADS EAST.

Expected to Arrive in This Section Tomorrow.

A cold wave that held virtually the entire country west of the Atlantic States in its grip was felt here today, and by tomorrow will include the states along the eastern seaboard, according to the official forecasters. Zero weather today extended as far south as Texas, and in the northwestern States the mercury went to 40 degrees below.

The cold wave was central over the Ohio Valley. All parts of the country except the Atlantic states reported sudden low temperatures. Observations in the Eastern States were to the effect that the cold wave was moving southeast, while in the trans-Mississippi region another cold centre seemed to be on its way in the same drection.

The cold wave is expected to overspread the Atlantic Coast States from Florida to Maine by Sunday morning.

East of the Mississippi there has been numerous thunder showers in the Southern States.

The cold wave accompanied by heavy snows is scheduled to reach this neighborhood in unabated violence no later than Sunday.

ROBBED AND ASSAULTED.

A window frame, with the glass broken out, a half brick kbat, several articles of clothing and a black eye were produced in police court this morning by Sadie Jackson, colored, as evidence that she had been assaulted and robbed. Sadie was the complaining witness in two cases. She charged William Churchville of having thrown a brick through her window which knocked her unconscious. She also charged Mary Redd, colored, with having robbed her of $6.75 in cash and a dress which Mary was wearing in court. Judge Caton fined both defendants $10.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

DRAPER BADLY INJURED.

Prisoner Resists Arrest and Former Baseball Pitcher is Shot.

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 7.—J. C. Winfield, of this city, Thursday morning received a message from Welch, W. Va., telling of the serious wounding of W. Harry Draper, near Berwind. Draper is well known in Roanoke, having been one of the Tigers' star twirlers in 1910 and 1911. Draper is now in a hospital in Welch, and as a result of the gunshot wounds it was necessary to remove one of his eyes.

According to a telephone message received from Welch there are two versions of the shooting and, so far as could be learned, the name of Draper's assailant is not known. One story of the shooting says that Draper arrested his man and was on his way to Berwind with the prisoner, when he was accosted by a friend of the man, who insisted that Draper release the prisoner. Draper is said to have refused whereupon the friend of the prisoner opened fire on Draper with a shotgun. Draper threw up his arms to protect his face, and the full load of shot entered his arms and face.

The other version of the shooting says that Draper went to arrest his man and the man refused to submit. Draper drew his revolver and fired, wounding him in the right hand. The latter, then, is alleged, opened fire on Draper.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Clothes Catch in Shaft, And he is Whirled Around for Several Minutes.

Danville, Va., Feb. 7.—James Batten, a workman, who was covering steam pipes with asbestos in a local steam laundry, had a narrow escape from death Wednesday, when, while at work near a shaft a small crew caught in his overhauls and entwined the man, whirling him round for several moments before the power could be shut down. When extracted, he was found to be not severely injured, but had some bad scars and bruises. With the exception of his shoes and socks, every particle of raiment had been torn from his body. Employes stood horrified while they saw Batten's form caught in the machinery, and all expected to see his skull crushed against a beam as each revolution was made.

RESCUED FROM VESSEL.

Life Savers Take Crew of Stranded Schooner With Breeches Buoy.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 7.—The life-saving crew of the Nags Head station pulled seven men yesterday through a raging surf from the deck of a stranded schooner without the loss of a life.

The three-masted schooner Helen Benedict stranded yesterday morning during a fog three-quarters of a mile south of the Nags Head station. Life-savers saw her through the mist and endeavored to reach her in a lifeboat. The sea was too high and their little craft was hurled far on the beach by the surf.

Then the life-savers decided to use the breeches buoy. The glare of a red torch, the signal of distress, could be seen through the fog. With a Lyle gun a line was shot toward the schooner. Her crew, eager to grab it, was doomed to disappointment, for it dropped into the sea. The life-savers tried again, and as line after line fell short, a man leaped from the schooner into the sea. He had a rope around his waist. He grabbed the life-line, secured it and was pulled aboard the stranded vessel by his shipmates.

The life-line was made fast to her mast and the basket shot out to her. It required more than three hours to rescue the men.

WAR ON SOCIAL CARD GAMES.

East Liverpool (Ohio) Mayor Says They Are Gambling.

East Liverpool, Ohio, Feb. 7.—Considering the places where bridge, euchre, and other card games are played for prizes come under the law as much as do poker and other gambling rooms, Mayor Peter Schreiber has announced that all such forms of amusement here must cease.

Mayor Schreiber declared he was in earnest and would direct the police to raid social functions where card games were being played for prizes. Before his election Schreiber was a blacksmith.

LIQUOR MEN WILL CONTEST.

Courts to be Asked to Declare Legislative Act Null And Void.

Richmond, Feb. 7.—It matters not what kind of an enabling bill the legislature passes, it is known that the courts are to be invaded by the liquor people with a view to having the legislative act declared null and void.

In case of failure in that direction all interest will center in the election of the next legislature, when all the members of both branches are to be chosen.

One of the most ardent supporters of the measure in the Senate, one who voted against the amendments, expressed his belief that the people of Virginia will reject the prohibition feature and stand for the present local option principle.

It is significant that neither the temperance people nor the liquor forces are pleased with the measure. For instance, the drys wanted to close up the breweries. The wets declare that the amendment allowing the making of beer is so framed that while they can make beer, they cannot sell a bottle of it or ship it to any point in the State. They declare that it is virtually putting them out of business.

One thing is very significant in the proceedings vastly different from two years ago. Then great stress was laid on the fact that the enabling act was unconstitutional. That phase of the question was argued at great length, was the burden of the song of the opposition to the bill.

Now the question is being asked whether or not a "joker" has found its way into the bill. If such shall prove to be true, it will serve to undo the work of the Anti-Saloon League.

KILLED BY VEILED WOMAN.

Police Endeavoring to Ascertain Motive for Murder.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 7.—Mrs. Harriet Manning in her mother's home at 219 Warren street, Newark, was called by her sister last night to greet a woman caller.

"I—I can't see who you are; we haven't lighted the gas," said Mrs. Manning as she stepped into the dark parlor. She struck a match and lifted her arms to the burner. Her face was brightly outlined against the shadowy walls.

A shot blazed. A woman with veiled face, but apparently young, and of striking features sprang from a corner of the room.

Mrs. Manning had fallen to the floor beside a couch. A bullet had struck her chin and passed upward through the brain.

The other woman leaned over her and fired again, deliberately. The last bullet went through the back of the helpless victim. But the first had killed her.

Mrs. Harriett Cobb, the mother of Mrs. Manning, rushed into the room with her other daughter, Mrs. William Riley.

The gas had not been lighted. They rushed into the flare of two revolver shots, but the shots missed them. The woman flew past them, into the street and away.

The police of Newark dropped minor business and put the entire detective force on the most unusual case of murder in twenty-five years—the murder of a woman by a woman without apparent cause.

It is admitted that they are at work on a theory that the slayer was actuated by jealousy.

Mrs. Manning was the wife of Charles Manning, owner of the Mountainside Garage in Montclair. The couple had been separated for more than a year.

Mrs. Manning was an unusually attractive woman.

From her mother and sister, who were taken to police headquarters and questioned, it was learned that there were several men who boarded in the Cobb home. One of them was John Zink.

The police are trying to find Zink's address, and also are looking up the addresses of the other men, on the theory that the wife of one of them may have done the shooting.

SWANSON IS DESIGNATED.

Will Read Washington's Farewell Address in Senate on February 23.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Vice-President Marshall has designated Senator Swanson, of Virginia, to read Washington's farewell address at the observation of Washington's birthday by the Senate on February 23, Sunday falling February 22.

SUCCUMBS TO HIS WOUND.

Man Dies in Hospital—Negro Who Shot Him Claims Self-Defense.

Richmond, Feb. 7.—Police were notified early yesterday that U. C. Woolridge, a blacksmith, of Goochland county, died at Sheltering Arms Hospital Thursday night from the effects of a pistol shot wound.

Woolridge was brought to Richmond several days ago. He was shot in the head by German McCowan, a negro, of the same county, and remained unconscious until his death. The negro, who claims self-defense, declares that he shot Woolridge after the latter had wounded him in the stomach with a pistol ball. He says that he wrenched Woolridge's pistol from his hand and then turned it on him and fired. Woolridge, he declares, accused him of stealing some money and this brought on the trouble.

McGowan was also brought to Richmond for treatment, and is now in the jail hospital. His wound is not serious. The fact that Woolridge was never able to make a statement after the shooting will make it hard to convict McGowan, the police believe, as there were no witnesses of the shooting except another negro who tells a story bearing out McGowan's statement.

SCHOOL REVENUES

Superintendent Stearnes Makes Timely Some Observations.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 7.—"I make no warfare upon treasurers' commissions, as I happen to know that many of these worthy officials receive a very moderate return for the labors they perform. But among school men I hear no more caustic and persistent criticism than the comment made upon the fact that it costs our local school revenues in counties more than three times as much to collect and disburse the school moneys as it does to supervise the schools. In 1912 the county treasurers received $108,057.74 from local school funds and county superintendents from the same source only $30,680.91."

Blaming the system and not the official, Superintendent R. C. Stearnes makes the above statement in his annual report for the schol year 1912. In urging a better system of settling local school accounts, he recites the fact that the department of public instruction is expressly forbidden by statute to inquire into or supervise such accounts, yet it is frequently held responsible for the errors and delinquents made in their setlement. The errors are made is not all remarkable under the present complex system.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Miss Blanche Goldberg, of Roanoke, Run Over on Bridge Yesterday.

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 7.—While suffering from temporary mental eberration, brought on by a recent attack of typhoid fever, Miss Blanche Goldberg, a prominent young Jewess, of this city, wandered away from her sister's home early yesterday morning.

While crossing the railroad bridge ovor Roanoke river the young woman was run down by a Norfolk and Western freigh ttrain on the Winston-Salem division and killed. The body was dragged some distance and badly mangled. Miss Goldberg's father is in Russia. She has a brother living in London, and a sister, Miss Mabel Goldberg, lives in New York.

THREE WHITE GIRLS IN DEN.

Found Hidden Between Ceilings In Chinese Opium House.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7.—While searching a Chinese rooming house in Chinatown Wednesday night for opium smokers the police discovered three white girls hidden between the ceiling of the first story and flooring of the second. The girls were crowded in a small aperture, concealed by a false ceiling into which they had been forced when the police entered the building.

At police headquarters the girls said they were all over 20 years of age. They refused to tell how they came to be in the house or to give any information against Young Yik Chinese, who resisted the police while the raid was under way, and who was arrested with them. The ploice believe they have found a Chinese white slave depot.

The girls will be held pending an investigation by Juvenile Court officials, who believe they are under age.

RECEIPTS OF EVANGELISTS.

Over 175,000 converts in four and a half years' work as an evangelist is the record of Rev. Billy Sunday, according to a biography of the baseball preacher, just published.

The record is accurate, starting with his meeting in Bouldner, Col., in September, 1909, and including the results at South Bend in June of last year. In that time he collected in free-will offerings, $250,360.82. He averaged $326.64 a day during the time he conducted meetings. He caused 146,022 people to "hit the sawdust trail." Since that time he has increased his total of collections to about $300,000, and his converts to 175,000.

These enormous figures, it will be seen, are derived from side shows of the gospel, and when it is taken into consideration that they in no manner reflect the stupendous outlay requisite to maintain regular churches, there is no wonder that places where the word is proclaimed by those in love with their profession, without money and without price, are crowded with the rank and file of mankind.

AN OLD GAME IN THE QUAKER CITY.

A woman who gave her name as Mattie Ray, 20 years old, well educated and refined, was found crying in the waiting room of the Reading Terminal in Philadelphia Thursday, and when taken to the City Hall she alleged that she had been abandoned by the man who was to have married her. She said she had eloped with a traveling salesman four days ago from her home in Millsboro, Va. She stated she had known the man for six months, and that the day before she eloped with him he sent her a message asking her to be ready. They went to Washington, D. C, she said, where they were to have been married. They only remained there a few hours, when the man said that it would be more convenient to be married in Philadelphia. Miss Ray said that he took her to apartments on Arch street, and later told her they could not be married until he received a check from his firm. Then he disappeared, she said.

There was another act to the drama. After the young woman had received the sympathy of many men and women, and when the air was charged with imprecations against the heartless wretch who had abandoned an innocent and confiding girl in a strange city and penniless, the alleged victim was recognized by a detective, and told: "You have until 1 o'clock to get out of Philadelphia. That gives you one hour." "I won't need it at all," she replied "There's a train for Staunton, Va., at 12:47 o'clock, and I don't like Philadelphia, anyhow."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Preparing for Celebration of Washington's Birthday—Result of Literary Society Contest.

About a hundred high school students will march in the parade to be given by the George Washington Birthday Association on the 23rd of the month. The principal of the High school has already commenced drilling the ones who will march, so that they may make as good a showing as possible on the big holiday. The representatives of the High School in the parade will be mostly from the first year, as about one-half of the two hundred pupils in the High School are enrolled in the Freshman class.

A meeting of the High School pupils was held Wednesday, where plans for the entering of pupils in the parade and the luncheon to be given on the 3rd by the Girls' Athletic Association were discussed. The luncheon will be given by the girls of the High School at noon of the 3rd in the Young People's Building, on south Washington street. Mrs. T. C. Howard will be in charge of the young ladies serving the luncheon. A committee of girls has been appointed to wait on the merchants of the city to secure donations for the luncheon.

The preliminary contest, to decide which member of the Society should be sent to Richmond College as a representative of the Society in the declamation contest there on the 21st, was held last Saturday night in the school building. The six members elected to compete in the preliminary were Frank E. Johnston, Ashby Bladen, Miss Helen R. Blake, Miss Flora Glasgow, Waller Barrett, and John Reardon. A selection from Browning was rendered by Miss Blake. Frank Johnston gave "The New South," by Henry W. Grady. "The Ride of Jenny McNeal," was given by Waller Barrett. Ashby Bladen delivered a selection from the speech of Hon William J. Bryan on the currency question. John Reardon declaimed Mark Antony's oration, and Miss Flora Glasgow rendered "The Parson's Blessing on the Christmas Dance." The judges of the contest were Messrs. Johnson, and Blanton and Miss Hoffman. After a long recess, the judges returned with their report, which declared Frank Johnston the winner. He will declaim in the contest at Richmond a piece to be selected by the faculty.

The regular meeting of the Literary Society will be held tonight in the school building at 7:30. The question for debate is "Resolved; that a three-hour school day is preferable to a five-hour day." Misses Madeline Martin and Corinne Reardon will uphold the affirmative, with Miss Mabel Henderson and Robert Gullandon the negative. The first part of Mark Antony's oration will be declaimed by all the boys of the Society.

Botany has been taken up by the Sohpomores. They will begin dissecting with the study of seed germination next Monday.

Second term classics have been commenced by the classes of the High School. The first year taking up "Evangeline," and "Treasure Island," and discarding "The Sketch Book" and "Lady of the Lake," the second year commencing "Southern Poets," and "Tale of Two Cities," having just completed the study of "Ivanhoe" and "Julius Caesar," the junior class leaving off "Silas Warner" and "Merchant of Venice" and the seniors just finishing "Hamlet."

Captain Sweeney taught Wednesday in the absence of Mr. Johnson, who was at the Washington School drilling the boys preparatory to their marching in the parade on the 23rd.

Because of ill-treatment they suffered at the hands of spectators and players of the Manassas High School team, the Alexandria High School basketball team did not play out the game scheduled at Manassas last night at 8:00 p. m. The players and students of the High School left the basketball floor and came home in disgust.

A Neglected Cold Often Affects the Lungs

Many serious cases of Throat or Lung Trouble can be directly traced to a cough or cold which has been neglected. If you notice that a cough persists in clinging to you take warning. If you neglect trying to stop this supposed trivial trouble the throat and lungs later become affected. In many cases Eckman's Alterative has been the means of securing permanent relief. Investigate:—

Saratoga, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Lung Trouble by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil, Creosote and other medicines, all without benefit. At Christmas time, 1908, I was not expected to live. Calling Dr. R. H. McCarthy, he advised the use of Eckman's Alterative, which I took with excellent results. I have gained in weight. I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alterative."

(Affidavit) JAS. W. KANALY.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years test to be most reliable for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons, or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

ALEXANDRIA AND AUTOMOBILES

Large Number of Cars to Be Bought Here This Spring.

GOOD ROADS COMING.

Merchants will Use More Auto Trucks And Delivery Wagons—Outlook Very Promising.

Alexandria will be the market for a large number of automobiles this spring and among those familiar with the situation it is confidently expected that there will be at least four times the number of cars sold this year than in any previous year since the automobile industry has been established. And the sale of cars will not be confined to Alexandria city alone. Hundreds of farmers in Fairfax, Loudoun, and Fauquier counties are talking automobiles while the suburban residents in Alexandria county will be in the market for machines.

There is, of course, a reason for the demand, and that is the great improvement of the roads in this section of the state. Early next month the United States and Virginia engineers will commence the construction of 55 miles of modern roadway south of Alexandria in Fairfax county. $116,000 is already in hand for this work and Mt. Vernon district of Fairfax county will have some of the finest samples of roads in the United States. In Prince William and Stafford counties contractors are working on large sections of the proposed highway between Washington and Richmond and final sections of the Eight Districts are convict camps at work.

With the opening of spring the boulevard from the south end of the highway bridge leading to Arlington and forming a connecting link between Washington and Alexandria, which has been built at a cost of $46,000 by the United States government, will be thrown open to automobile traffic.

In Alexandria City over $100,000 has been spent on the improvement of streets and each year sees the area of smooth paving increased.

BUCKLE STOPS BULLET.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 7.—Angered because the children in the home of Blaine Browner, a neighbor, were too noisy, Samuel Wallace, 50 years old, of No. 1629 Seybert street, attempted to shoot Browner last night, but a heavy suspender buckle deflected the course of the bullet and saved his life. At the German Hospital Browner's only wound was found to be a slight flesh abrasion over the heart. Wallace was arrested by the police of the 23rd district and held for a hearing.
